

International Journal of Modern Science and Technology

www.ijmstpublications.com

ISSN 2456-0235

Publication Ethics and Malpractice Statement

To

Journal Name : _____

Manuscript Title: _____

Authors Name: _____

1. The above titled article published by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology is the original work of the authors or copyright materials from other sources and not copied from any other sources.
2. Authors also assure that the content of the article has not been published previously in any other form, not submitted to any other media and nor under consideration.
3. All the authors agreed for publishing this article under open access policy by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology in electronic, printed or any other media to promote science and technology in the chosen field.
4. All financial support contributed to the findings/research reported in the manuscript is acknowledged with full details.
5. Authors ensure that the manuscript submitted to the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology presents their original works and a proper citation is made on citing the works of others. Authors are aware that imitation or intentionally inaccurate statements constitute unethical activities and are unacceptable.
6. All authors accept the responsibility for any kind of copyright violations or an infringement and plagiarism in their manuscript published by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology. Authors are aware that they have the right to use their own article for their personal, institute, company or funding agency's academic purpose.
7. Authors also agree that the content of the article published by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology will be acknowledged in all uses.
8. Corresponding author assures that the content of the manuscript is seen and approved by all the authors for publication by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology.
9. The corresponding author takes complete responsibility for any incomplete or incorrect information provided in the manuscript submitted and published by the International Journal of Modern Science and Technology and accepts that the publisher is not responsible.
10. I Dr. _____, corresponding author of this article accepts all the above points and signed this copyright agreement on behalf of all the co-authors of this article.

Corresponding author Signature with date
(Name and Seal)